

3D SUSTAINMENT COMMAND

Shoulder Sleeve Insignia

Combat Service Identification Badge

Distinctive Unit Insignia

Shoulder Sleeve Insignia. Description: On a white disc within a 1/8 inch (.32 cm) red border, 2 inches (5.08 cm) in diameter overall, three blue arrowheads with points outward, arranged to form a triangle, one point up.

Background: The shoulder sleeve insignia was originally approved for the 3d Logistical Command on 20 May 1952. It was redesignated on 23 September 1974, for the 3d Support Command. The insignia was redesignated effective 16 September 2007, for the 3d Sustainment Command with the description updated. (TIOH Dwg. No. A-1-30)

COMBAT SERVICE IDENTIFICATION BADGE: A silver color metal and enamel device 2 inches (5.08 cm) in diameter consisting of a design similar to the shoulder sleeve insignia.

Distinctive Unit Insignia. Description: A gold color metal and enamel device 1 3/16 inches (3.02 cm) in height overall consisting of a gold octagon shape bearing three chevrons interlaced, the first scarlet, the second white, and the third blue, supporting at the top a Korean Taeguk (scarlet and blue) all within a scarlet border, at base a gold scroll inscribed "SUSTAINING THE LINE" in blue letters.

Symbolism: The Korean Taeguk within the octagon shape represents the unit's eight campaigns in the Korean War. The red, white and blue interlaced chevrons symbolize the strong support offered by the Command; three chevrons further distinguish the unit's numerical designation. Buff (gold) and scarlet are colors used for Support units.

Background: The distinctive unit insignia was originally approved for the 3d Support Command on 21 March 1978. It was redesignated effective 16 September 2007, for the 3d Sustainment Command with the description and symbolism amended.
